EMPLOYEE STUDY PRIVILEGE

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What employee classifications are eligible for the Employee Study Privilege Program?

Eligibility for the Employee Study Privilege Program includes:

- Academic Faculty with Regular, Special or Senior Teaching appointments and Administrative Professionals with Regular or Special appointments of 50% time or greater;
- Academic Faculty and Administrative Professionals on Temporary appointments of 50% time or greater;
- Post Doctoral Fellows, Veterinary Interns and Clinical Psychology Interns with appointments of 50% time or greater;
- Non-temporary State Classified employees with appointments of 50% time or greater.

Note: Contact Human Resources at (970) 491-MyHR (6947) regarding eligibility provisions for University Faculty Affiliates employed by USDA (GS9 or above) or Military Science (ROTC).

2. How many credits am I eligible for?

Eligible Faculty/Staff with full-time appointments may register for up to nine (9) credits per Employee Study Privilege Program benefit year (commencing Summer session and ending Spring semester).

Credits are prorated based on your appointment percentage:

- 100% appt. - 9 credits
- 75 - 99% appt. - 7 credits
- 50 - 74% appt. - 5 credits
- under 50% appt - 0 credits

3. What types of courses may I take?

The Employee Study Privilege Program allows one to take the following credit courses:

- Credit courses which are part of the Colorado State University Curriculum (as defined by the Colorado State University General Catalog);
- Credit courses offered by CSU Online;
- Credit courses offered through the Reciprocal Study Privilege Benefit available at Colorado State University Global Campus, Colorado State University Pueblo, and the University of Northern Colorado.

Note: Non - credit courses are not eligible under the Employee Study Privilege Program.

4. Does the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) require taxation of the Employee Study Privilege Program benefits?

Generally education benefits are tax-free due to flexibility granted to institutions of higher education, but there are exceptions to this rule as stated in the Internal Revenue Code (IRC) where taxation would apply. Educational benefits which exceed $5,250 per calendar year require employee taxation for the amount an employee receives beyond this limitation for graduate level courses deemed to not satisfy the IRC working condition fringe benefit to improve one's skills for their current occupation.

The IRC defines graduate level as a student who has previously matriculated with a Bachelor of Science degree who is seeking a new degree at either the undergraduate or graduate course level. In addition, the IRS prohibits tax-free education related to games, hobbies or sports that are not directly related to seeking a degree at both the undergraduate and graduate level (e.g., music, art, horseback riding). If applicable, the taxation will be reflected on the employee's year end pay advice (December).

5. What are eligible expenses under the Employee Study Privilege Program?

Eligible expenses include:

- Base Tuition – up to 9 credits per year (credits are prorated based on your appointment percentage).
- Undergraduate Differential Tuition – up to 9 credits per year (credits are prorated based on your appointment percentage).
- Graduate Differential Tuition – at least one study privilege credit must be utilized each semester to allow eligibility.
- University Technology Fee and General Fees – credited (fee waiver) to your student account. This waiver of General Fees removes your free access to the Recreation Center, athletic events, and other campus services.
- University Facility Fee – prorated according to the number of study privilege credits utilized.
- College Charges for Technology – prorated according to the study privilege credits utilized.

Note: The University Technology Fee and General Fees will still be credited (fee waiver) to your student account even if study privilege credits have been exhausted provided the Employee Study Privilege Registration Form is submitted.

Ineligible expenses include:

- Undergraduate tuition normally covered by the College Opportunity Fund (COF) – if you take a COF eligible course in a manner that COF cannot be applied (e.g., you do not apply for and authorize COF or you audit a course), the Employee Study Privilege Program will not cover the portion of tuition that would have been covered by COF.
- Special Course fees – a list of associated courses with applicable fees is available at: <http://provost.colostate.edu/students/>

After the exhaustion of available Employee Study Privilege credits, any remaining tuition, charges or fees are not eligible for coverage or the College Opportunity Fund (if applicable).

6. If my appointment percentage changes, will the eligibility for the number of credits also change?

The eligibility for course credits is based on your appointment percentage at the point and time you apply for the Employee Study Privilege Program. For example, if your appointment is 100% when you apply for Summer session, you are eligible for 9 credits. If you enroll in 6 credits, then you will have 3 credits remaining to utilize for the next two semesters of the Employee Study Privilege Program academic year. If during the Spring semester your appointment percentage changes to 75%, your total eligibility for credits would change to 7. Due to previously utilizing 6 credits in Summer session, you would have 1 credit remaining to utilize for the Spring semester.

Note: The same philosophy applies if an appointment percentage increases. The number of eligible credits would also increase.

7. Is the College Opportunity Fund (COF) available to assist with the course cost?

Employees registering at an undergraduate level who are classified as Colorado residents for tuition purposes must apply for and authorize the use of COF. Failure to authorize COF will result in an additional charge to your student account. For more information, please visit <http://sfs.colostate.edu/cof>.

Note: Not all courses are COF eligible including placement credits (math or challenge courses), CSU Online courses, and courses taken with the grading option of audit. Undergraduate students registering for 600+ level courses are also not eligible.

8. Am I able to use the Employee Study Privilege Program to take courses at other institutions?

The Employee Study Privilege Program includes reciprocal provisions that allow you to take courses at Colorado State University Global Campus, Colorado State University Pueblo, and the University of Northern Colorado. Enrollment requires your agreement to fulfill financial obligations and abide by the policies of the reciprocal educational institution in which your student status is obtained. Program eligibility shall be defined and determined by the Employee Study Privilege Program of Colorado State University.

Contact the Human Resources for additional information at (970) 491-MyHR (6947) or you may review reciprocal program information at: www.hrs.colostate.edu/benefits/study-privilege.html. Additional forms are required to gain pre-approval under the reciprocal provisions of the Employee Study Privilege Program. The required forms are located at: www.hrs.colostate.edu/benefits/study-privilege.html and are submitted to Human Resources.

10. What is the policy on adding or dropping a course after the deadline?

On-Campus Instruction: Policies vary; see below.

- Only registered for 1 course:

- If you drop your only course for the semester, you are completing a university withdrawal. Please access the University Withdrawal link under the "Registration" section in RAMweb to process the withdrawal for the term. The credits will be forfeited for the defined benefit year.

Note: No courses or grades will be listed for that term. Be aware a notation will appear on your transcript indicating a withdrawal was processed for the semester.

- Registered for 2 or more courses:

- A course may be dropped through the end of the Drop period for the individual course. The specific date for each course is listed on the online class schedule or in RAMweb. More information about this date and other dates can be found by accessing the appropriate semester under Important Dates under the Students section on the Registrar's Office website. If you drop a course within its drop period but remain a student for the term enrolled in at least one course, the dropped course will not be reflected in your academic record. Tuition and fees may be adjusted as a result.

Note: If you drop all your courses you are completing a University Withdrawal. Please access the University Withdrawal link under the "Records" section in RAMweb to process the withdrawal for the term.

- Summer Session Drop Policies:

- A course, even if it is your only course, may be dropped through the end of the Drop period for the individual course. Refer to the Summer Session website for registration information, e.g. policies, appeals, add/drop dates.

CSU Online: Drop, withdrawal, and University withdrawal deadlines for CSU Online credit courses differ from University on-campus instruction deadlines. It is your responsibility to verify that the drop or withdrawal has been processed properly. Visit www.online.colostate.edu/faqs/policies/drop-policy.dot for information regarding the drop and withdrawal policy.

Reciprocal Study Privilege Program benefits: Subject to the institution rules in which your student status is obtained (Colorado State University Global Campus, Colorado State University Pueblo, and the University of Northern Colorado).

11. If I submit the Employee Study Privilege Program application, but subsequently drop a course during the add/drop period, will these credits be forfeited?

On-Campus and CSU Online Instruction: Policies vary; see below.

- Only registered for 1 course:
 - If you drop your only course for the semester, you are completing a university withdrawal. Please access the University Withdrawal link under the “Registration” section in RAMweb to process the withdrawal for the term. The credits will be forfeited for the defined benefit year.

For summer, refer to Summer Session Drop Policies under Question 10.

- Registered for 2 or more courses:
 - If you drop a course but remain a student for the term enrolled in at least one course, the dropped credits will not be subtracted from your eligible credits available per Employee Study Privilege Program benefit year (commencing Summer session and ending Spring semester) as long as the course is dropped before the drop period ends for the individual course.

12. Can I withdraw from a course once the semester has begun?

On-Campus Instruction: Yes, you may withdraw from the course. Policies vary; see below.

- Only registered for one course:
 - Once a semester has started, withdrawing from your only course is considered a university withdrawal. Please access the University Withdrawal link under the “Registration” section in RAMweb to process the withdrawal for the term. Credits will be forfeited for the defined benefit year.

- Registered for 2 or more courses:

The course withdrawal period begins after the add/drop period and closes at the end of the eighth week of the term. A “W” (withdrawal) will be recorded on your academic record except in the case of the 60-credit English composition and mathematics requirements (see the All-University Core Curriculum section of the general catalog). No drops may be made after the add/drop period. See also Class Attendance Regulations in the All-University Core Curriculum section of the catalog.

- Tuition and fees will not be adjusted for withdrawals during the course withdrawal period. See also Tuition and Fees Adjustments in the Financial Services for Students chapter of the catalog. Credit hours for any withdrawn courses will count toward your yearly benefit maximum of nine (9) credit hours (maximum credits available are prorated based on your appointment percentage).
- After the course withdrawal deadline, you will not be permitted to withdraw from an individual course unless you have unusual circumstances and a Registration Appeal is submitted to the Registrar’s Office and approved. (Students who will not successfully complete any courses for the term should reference University Withdrawal policies and seek advising on their situation.) If a Registration Appeal is approved, you will receive a grade notation of “W” unless the approval specifies another grade. The credit hours for the withdrawn course will count toward your yearly benefit maximum of nine (9) credit hours (maximum credits available are prorated based on your appointment percentage).

CSU Online: Drop, withdrawal, and University withdrawal deadlines for CSU Online credit courses differ from University on-campus instruction deadlines. Any changes made to your class schedule may impact your financial obligation to the University and eligibility for financial aid. It is your responsibility to verify that the drop or withdrawal has been processed properly. Visit www.online.colostate.edu/faqs/policies/drop-policy.dot for information regarding the drop and withdrawal policy.

13. Who should I contact if I have questions about my eligibility for the Employee Study Privilege Program?

You may contact Human Resources at (970) 491-MyHR (6947) to discuss the Employee Study Privilege Program features and eligibility rules.

If you have questions regarding your student account (tuition or associated fees) please contact the Registrar's Office at (970) 491-4860 or CSU Online at (970) 491-5288.

14. Am I permitted to enroll in courses that occur during my scheduled work hours?

Your supervisor must pre-approve the courses you wish to enroll in. The ability to attend class during your normal work hours requires supervisor approval and is also based on the business needs of your department.

Time off for courses you are enrolled in initiated at the direction of the department to improve job skills are generally classified as administrative leave and should be reflected as such.

15. Can I adjust my credits within the Employee Study Privilege Program benefit year once my registration form has been processed?

- Credits available under the terms of the program may not be reserved for future Employee Study Privilege Program benefit years (commencing Summer session and ending Spring semester). Any unused credits are forfeited from program eligibility.
- Once the Employee Study Privilege Registration Form has been processed, credits may not be adjusted or transferred. For example: 1) Credits which have been approved for use in a prior semester may not be reallocated to a future semester; 2) Credits which have been approved for use in the current semester may not be reallocated to a past semester.

16. Do I need to fulfill the same immunization requirements as students not employed by CSU?

Yes. The Colorado Statute defines a college student as any student who is enrolled for one or more classes at a college or university and who is physically present at the institution. This includes students who are auditing classes. Students must submit proof of measles/mumps/rubella (MMR) vaccinations or evidence of immunity.

- Students born after January 1, 1957 must provide documented proof that they have received two measles, one rubella (German measles) and two mumps vaccinations OR two combination MMR vaccinations.
- Students born before January 1, 1957 are assumed to have been exposed to disease and are exempt from this requirement. No documentation of MMR is required.

The above policy does not apply to students taking online courses.
